

SYNOPSIS

Schulanfang, Achtung Kinder!

Logline

An unmarried couple believes to have accidentally run over a young boy with their car, but quickly realizes that they have stumbled into a dangerous trap. Their worst fears become reality when children from the neighborhood turn up and start a deadly hunt against the adults.

Synopsis

Nadja (30) and Sebastian (30) are on the way to a family reunion. In a moment of distraction, Sebastian hits something with the car. They discover to their horror that they have run over a young boy, now lying unconscious on the side of the road. When Sebastian tries to check the boy's breathing, he suddenly bites into Sebastian's hand. An older man (62) from the local area comes to the couple's aid, but in vain, as the children from the neighborhood have already become aware of their presence. Like hungry carnivores they pursue Nadja and Sebastian. Seeking shelter in a playhouse, the two are forced to make an escape plan, but manage to get into even more trouble by incessantly bickering with each other.
